Today, Wednesday, March 8, 2023, is International Women's Day, a day to recognize and celebrate the achievements of women around the world, and to recognize the tremendous contributions they have made in every area of life.

At the Saint John Police, we understand the importance of gender equality and the empowerment of women. We must continue to strive towards a world where women are safe and respected.

"Today is a great opportunity to reflect, recognize and celebrate the outstanding contributions of our female members, civilian and uniform, who continue to set the standard of excellence in the service of our community. All of us at the Saint John Police are extremely proud and honoured to be able to serve along side these real difference makers. Our organization, community, province and country are that much better because of their pride, passion, commitment and courage. On behalf of a grateful country, we salute you." Chief R.M. Bruce

Together a safe, secure, healthy community
